Zero Plus

INTERIOR ZERO VOC* LATEX

Zero Plus is the perfect solution for demanding commercial projects where minimizing impacts on indoor air quality is required.

*Zero Plus is designated zero VOC (volatile organic compounds) based on EPA Method 24. All zero VOC paints emit chemicals. This paint emits chemicals during and for approximately two weeks after painting, but at much lower levels than conventional latex paints. Sensitive groups should minimize exposure during painting and for 24 hours after. "Zero VOC" does not mean "asthma/allergy friendly."

OUR FAMILY'S COMMITMENT TO YOU

Andrew Vogel, our founder, decided that the paint he perfected himself was the only paint good enough for houses and barns in the harsh and varied Midwest climate. In 1926, a paint company was born from a modest workshop laboratory. Four generations and millions of gallons of paint later, we still carry on the legacy of our founder. Through our manufacturing facilities, stores, and dealers, we continue to provide the outstanding value and service that our company was built on. From perfecting our own formulas to producing and distributing our own products, our commitment and passion continues to be worthy of Andrew's name.
